

St. Patrick and the Three Brave Mice

Many years ago, St. Patrick traveled the roads and byways of Ireland driving out the snakes with a bell.

But one crafty, clever snake escaped. This snake slithered through meadow and forest, day and night, hunting for tasty mouse meals.

One night, three little mice, Ryan, Brian, and Tulla, cuddled in their nest. Ryan and Brian soon fell asleep. But Tulla was restless.

